

Martin Lee Johnson

June 4, 1991 - February 22, 2022

Cemetery

Events

Crystal Lake Cemetery

3816 Penn Ave. N.

Minneapolis, MN, 55412

MAR Visitation 10:00AM - 11:00AM

29

Estes Funeral Chapel

2201 Plymouth Ave N, Minneapolis, MN, US, 55411

MAR Funeral Service 11:00AM - 12:00PM

29

Estes Funeral Chapel

2201 Plymouth Ave N, Minneapolis, MN, US, 55411

Comments

“ Man I don't even kno where to start smh we grew up at 12 years old together basketball at cockroach Park late nights up at my house playing tag smh I don't know what to say I remember he used to always say ea sports before tackling and knocking something or anything down lol just ready to do anything lol I love u Marty and I'll forever miss and think about u your my angel now guide me thru the storms. hopefully one day we play ball or call of duty again love u bro forever

Delavia mayberry - April 01 at 08:08 AM

“ We grow up together he was like my big brother.. He was the only one who stood up for me when kid's hurt me... I love you martin rip I'll take care of Melissa and your mom and dad and Alfred

Lydia - March 31 at 10:57 PM

“ Marty grew up with so many of the people who still stand by him me being one. I will never forget the light he'd bring into a room with that smile of his. You will forever be missed & always loved. Never forgotten bro. Today we lay you to rest , a month later but still hurts the same as the day we found out. Your daughters, shayle and more will miss you more than you will ever know.

Ashley Hales - March 29 at 10:22 AM

“ The way you taught me how to fight. The days in school when I was on the other side since u was older than me, I thought u was the coolest mfr, and was / am sooo proud to call u my brother. Always rapping Jeezy, smiling ... We have so many memories I can't pin point em all u k I love you though ☹️

Ashley Hales - April 01 at 04:18 PM

“ Martin spend time with my. Family. Every day. He was raised witu my kids.i remember he smile. Im truely going to miss him. Rip love u always

Mary - March 24 at 05:42 PM