

Billie Jo Staton

March 20, 1973 - April 29, 2023

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ wow...lady Billie was a class mate at St. Cloud State...she love Hip-hop Kulture...Ice- Cube! she was a female that could hang out with the fellas...still a lady...thanks 4 being my friend lady Billie...here is wishing u a peaceful journey Home...Back 2 GOD...peace&blessings..1luv...hari,hari! Ur boy yUsef!

YUsef Johnson - May 11, 2023 at 02:52 AM

SS

“ Oh this woman was amazing. 🌹 I met Billie in high school. We became instant best friends. We used to talk on the phone sometimes until the sun came up. Boy we talked about everything from how America or the US is so unjust and so cruel to people of color especially black folks, we talked about how our Waters and our food are poisoned, we talked about education,traveling, boys, the hood basically every freaking thing you could think of want to know about. In fact Billie and I were the last two to graduate in our class because we didn't know if we were going to graduate until the very very last minute. Class of '92'.. we even went to St. Cloud State together as team. I told Billie that I would never forget her B-day cuz it's March 20th, which is the 1st day spring...Billie loved clothes, Shoes,High fashion, Hair, make up, designer things and expensive unique things. The girl was classy when she wanted to be. Billie was Strong, Brave, loyal, intellectual and very well spoken. A true leader..My prayer for the Creator (GOD) is to help her Brother his kids and Billie's only child Ms Selena process and heal from such a devastating situation.Billie graduated from Aveda institute as an esthetician diligently working to open up her own professional skin care spa center. Billie was full of life. Now its the end💔🍷👩 I Love You Billie AND I will forever forever miss U. Love, Shalleya Shabazz ❤️

Shalleya M Shabazz - May 10, 2023 at 01:43 AM