“ I was fifteen years old when I met you. You said I was beautiful and you wasn't to bad yourself. You were the love of my life. R.I.P. my beloved.

“ I'm going to miss you so much uncle Cary. Your laugh, your advice, you sending me to the store for you and letting me keep the change, your smile and everything else about you. I was always so happy when you were around. I'll always cherish you and the times we shared. Although 23 years getting to experience you was too short I'll never ever forget you and I'll always sit and listen to every story told about the life you lived with joy. Rest in paradise uncle Cary. I love you forever❤️
