Gary McCullor and my husband met when they were driving together. Gary reached out to me in March 2020. I had no idea who he was and it just now hit me! He came to our home with my husband, Joe Devers, and shared a meal with us. When I went looking for him I realized he hadn't been on FB since 2019. He mentioned in the message that he had some type of cancer. Shame on me for not remembering such a great guy that became good friends with my husband. Joe passed away in 2017 from COPD. So they already caught up by now. I hope he didn't have to suffer.

*“ Sho gonna miss you cuz nephew! You use to say you weren't a bad kid, just misunderstood. I laugh every time I think about that. To me you were fearless! And I admired that. Was and always a pleasure to call you family.
