“ Words can't express how hard this is to absorb. Myron was my first friend in life I have so many memories of him I can't even imagine that he now gone. He was a huge part of my life. I always have love his family as well many were like my own. I learned many things from Myron he put me on to the world. I always wonder how he knew so much when we were so little. I'm glad he did cause I would have been lost in many situations without the things I learned from Myron. To his Family I Love You All. You are my brother forever I Love You. Your brother forever Charles Wilson
