“ Dear Jerry it's been an honor and privilege to have gotten to know you. From traveling to California to see the ocean and many beautiful places. To the time we went to the painted desert in Arizona. But one most memorable was when we traveled to south Dakota to go see her brother jim. He took us to bear butte state park where we hiked to the top mountain wich took about one to two hours to reach the top but once we did you could see at least 50 miles in each direction And if that wasn't beautiful enough we were high enough you could see eagles soaring below very spiritual.

“ Auntie I first want to thank you & tell you how much I appreciated you because I never got the chance to. You were one of the women I looked up to, and that helped raise me. You didn't have to help, but you did & always helped my meme with us when we were coming up. I love you so much, and am going to miss you, your voice, your smile, & your laugh. It's God's turn to take care of you now. Please hug my meme for me, I know she is happy to see your face again
🕊️ get your rest auntie 🥺👉👈
