“ Khalia, I have always loved you! You have been like family to me. Meeting you in gym class was by far, one of the best things that has happened to me. You have always showed me love, at my lowest points and highest. When I found out you passed my heart broke. Khairee and Declan are so blessed to have you as a mother. You were just an amazing person all around. Crazy and funny, your presence lit up any room as soon as you entered it. My heart goes out to your family, they are in my prayers. Scarlett and I, love you and miss you. ❤️

“ It was difficult for me to write something here because words just seemed so small in comparison to such a big loss. Khalia was one of the first people I connected with at work. She was sweet, funny, smart, fierce, and stubborn...all wonderful attributes! Our daily communications about everything under the sun were often the highlight of my day! We talked about our kids, family, education, religion, work, and hair!! I will miss my dear friend more than words can express.

My prayers and blessings are sent to her beautiful children, loving husband and mom, and her family, and may God grant you comfort and guidance.

“ I liked Khalia. She asked me to call her Kay. She reached out a few years ago, looking for more of her daughter's paternal family. Since then I flew to Minneapolis to meet Kay and her little girl. She was a nice person who put forth her best to create and maintain friends. I enjoyed her friendship. She is missed.

“ Khalia was such an amazing person. Although we worked together just for a short period of time, we became really good friends. She was so easy to talk to and would always make you see the funny and bright side even when you felt like all was falling part. I will miss our jokes, our discussions and thoughts about life, faith, our kids and family. But above all, I will miss you so very much my friend.

Sending love, light and prayers to her loving husband, kids, mum, family and loved ones in this difficult time. I pray God eases your pain and grants you all the strength to withstand this huge loss.xx
