“ A wonderful woman! So sad to hear of her passing. I remember when she came to my place in Busan I made a lemon meringue pie with artificial lemon juice. It was the worst lemon pie I ever made. I gave her a slice because she said she loved lemon pie. But she was too polite to tell me how horrible it was. We can expect to see her in the Resurrection morning.

“ I worked with Marsha for over 5 years until her husband transferred. She was the sweetest person that there ever was. We spent a lot of time in her office just talking. I felt she was a great close friend. I was so sad when she told me she was leaving, and I asked her how was I suppose to keep on without her here to talk to. She said that I will make it. We kept in touch until she became ill. I miss her so much. Marsha may you be resting in peace. It is true, the good do die young. Love you friend.

“ I always referred to her as "First Lady" because that's what she was to me. But she was also my homegirl and her family is based in the home church I left to go out to Minnesota to, and have since returned to. She was also my first greetings when I arrived at Glendale. She was an encouraging uplifting spirit and to watch her interact with Pastor Allison was an encouragement to ANY couple truly in love. I sang my first solo in 50 years in a Sabbath worship, which turned out to be her last attendance at Glendale, as she stood up and was Praising God, and after service, she, sitting next to me at dinner downstairs, was very positive and uplifting. As I gave my farewell message to Glendale SDA, I whispered to Pastor, asking how she was feeling. It was then he announced her diagnosis to the church as a whole. My prayer was that whatever God had planned for her life, I hoped they were able to celebrate Valentine's Day together 2024. After my move to Denver on Feb. 1st, I saw she passed on the 15th. Pastor and First Lady represented to me a phenomenal marriage I only rank in my memory equal to that of President and First Lady Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter. I continue to keep Pastor in prayer and always will.

“Marcia's authentic warmth and kindness made it extremely easy to connect with her. When my mother-in-law introduced us several years ago at Gethsemane SDA Church in Daphne, Alabama, I knew that she was a rare and precious gem, a woman of godly character and Christian maturity. When sharing about parenting, Marcia introduced me to two Christian authors, Liz Curtis Higgs who wrote a few books and posted videos on “Bad Girls of the Bible” and Celeste Perrino Walker who authored “Prayer Warriors”, these are so valuable to my walk with the Lord even to this day. I appreciated our texts on various holidays and always on Mothers’ Day. So this beautiful daughter of God now takes her rest. The legacy she leaves is one of an active FAITH that pushed through tough times and LOVED unconditionally. Heaven will be sweeter with her there! “Even so, come Lord Jesus!” 🎺🎺 Our sincere condolences to her husband, children and the rest of the family ❤️🙏🌸 Alfred and Quintessa Williams

Marcia's warm and sincere nature touched all who knew her. Since arriving in Minnesota, she welcomed me with open arms, making me feel like part of her family. Her kind words and gentle spirit will be deeply missed. Though our time together was short, the impact she made on my life will forever remain. Rest in peace, dear Marcia
