“ It's never easy to say goodbye, I remember as a child I used to give you all my kisses, you could do no wrong in my eyes. You were my hero and nobody could tell me otherwise. You made me proud to tell people you were MY DAD! You was a friend, a father and a dad to me. I am happy to have had the opportunity to be your daughter. There is no greater love than the one I have for you. You will be truly missed. You are truly loved and my heart is truly saddened to know that your body is no longer physically here. But my spirit is at peace because I know that even though you can't pick up the phone when I call you can be by my side each step of the way. I can bare the lost as I know you are in a more peaceful state. I am happy to take the pieces you left with me and use them for the greater good. Your absence is what I'll miss but your love I know is forever in me. I release you to be at peace. Heaven gained a few real ones this time and you and mom are together forever again. That is something I can live with. Peace Pops
