“ We have been Mary's neighbors for 44 years. We saw her at Holy Name church on Sundays and at the nearby school where she worked, when I went with my little children to Early Childhood classes. When our son sold Christmas wreaths for Scouts, Mary and Leroy would buy wreaths for the graves of all their relatives. Mary told me she used to enjoy watching our children walk up the alley, past her house, on the way home from school. She said they would play on the snow pile by her garage in the winter. Mary also told me about her childhood, growing up in a large family, traveling as an adult and playing in golf tournaments. We were lucky to be her neighbors!
