

Patricia Adelia Frost

August 8, 1949 - December 12, 2025

Patricia Adelia Frost was born to the parentage of Walter and Gloria Robinson, on Tuesday, August 8, 1949, in St. Paul, Minnesota. Patricia was raised in the Rondo neighborhood of St. Paul and educated in the Catholic school system in the area. She attended St. Peter Claver Church and School from kindergarten through eighth grades, graduating from St. Agnes High School in 1967. Patricia later earned a degree in business administration from Globe College.

From Peaches' (as she was fondly referred to by family and friends) first marriage her beloved son Kristin was born. She later married Al G. Frost, Jr., in 1986. Together, Peaches and Al built a quiet, steady life rooted in companionship and mutual respect until Al was called to glory on November 26, 2024. Though no children were born to their union, they poured into their grandchildren, nieces, nephews, great-nieces and nephews, and even great-great nieces and a great-great nephew.

Peaches' professional career began at Macalester College in the human resources division, where she met her future husband, Al. She went on to spend nearly 25 years with Burlington Northern Railroad in administrative roles within human resources. Her career later concluded as a human resources coordinator at the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, where she served with dedication for many years until her retirement.

Petite in stature but mighty in personality, she was known for her feisty spirit and her unmistakable honesty. While she was more introverted than her outgoing husband, they balanced each other. Peaches had a sassy tongue when needed and never left anyone guessing about where they stood with her, you knew if she liked you, loved you, or simply tolerated you.

Though Peaches did not claim many hobbies of her own, she found joy in participating in the activities her husband loved, whether spending time in the garden, joining him at the golf course, or at other sporting events. She also enjoyed moments with family and girlfriends, and showing up for them in her own quiet, steady way.

While Peaches had not attended mass regularly in recent years, she still maintained a quiet, personal faith that remained with her in her latter year.

On the evening of Friday, December 12, 2025, Peaches answered the Lord's call and went home to glory, escorted by an angel to her eternal rest.

Peaches was preceded in death by her husband, Al; parents Walter and Gloria Robinson; grandparents John and Helen Lawrence. She leaves to mourn her passing and forever cherish her memory, her son, Kristin Robinson; grandchildren, Jordan and Malanie Robinson; brother Wayne Robinson (Dawn); bonus daughter, Alena Flowers (William); grandchildren, Justin and Micayla Flowers; sister-in-laws Wanda Frost; Jacqueline Martin; Mercedes Walker (Michael); Cherise Frost-Randle (TK) and brother-in-law George Frost, all of whom reside in Minnesota.

Peaches is also survived by a host family, extended family and friends.

Acknowledgement

We would like to thank each one of you for your kindness shown through prayers, cards, calls, text messages, and social media. We appreciate every act of fondness from friends and loved ones during this difficult time. The loss of someone that you love is a tough endeavor that we all must encounter.

Again, thank you and may God bless you abundantly for your thoughtfulness.

A special note of thanks to Jordan, who moved into his grandmother's home to help care for her, doing so with unwavering love and never complaining.

We are also grateful to neighbors Hannah Nedrud, M.D. and David Nedrud, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne and Kim Bryant, along with other neighbors that looked out for Peaches.
