“ As you have transcended to the Ancestral Realm, know that the light and beauty in which you are will always be with us. You have paved the way for others to see. I am thankful for you as each day is different and will forever be different you showed each of us that lessons could be taught by the most outstanding teachers those who have lived the life of experience. Your guidance and protection will sustain those who continue to live in it, there is no greater joy than unconditional love, I will forever be grateful for you it is the light you continue to share that reminds me my baby cousin was a Goddess.
