I would like to give Sterling Fondren family some encouragement and truth. My mom taught me in life if you don't have anything good to say about a person don't say nothing at all. We should always remember the love and encouragement he put out there in his family and friends. We are not taught to be perfect parents, but we try and do our best. When I met Sterling he was sick and I was in his life to help him because that's what was required to make his life better. I can truly say in my heart I came to love him not for what He had or did but because He always had faith in me when I didn't have it in myself , He pushed me to be the best. He loved his kids but he also told me he invested in them and never got a return. We all as parents want the best so we push our kids Some take it in love some don't. Some would say he was bitter but me always seeing the best in everyone knew he just wanted their life better than his. If you wanted to learn and excess in life he was the man to be around. He had all kinds of ways to move ahead in life. He demanded respect and if you had drama pass by 923. The man that some say he cussed them or didn't like his ways, I can stand up and say that was not the man I knew.. All he wanted was love in return. He lived and enjoyed his life just look at all the pictures at 923. We often talked about forgiveness and love. He told me he had been hurt by many but I always told him , you have to have a forgiving heart. And I would like to tell his family as well. We , myself as well we have to forgive. If we Don't forgive God won't forgive us. Don't carry that burden To your grave. To all that loved him please remember and cherish the love he gave and how he changed lives. I know to all that loved him he changed their life. Not many people live in a resident for over 40 plus years or more. I admired him for being a stable man. I can truly say that Sterling wanted his kids to be close to one another. Some may not like what I say but I come in love just to encourage you all and let you know that Sterling Fondren loved you. Let's keep his memory in love because Satan is out to destroy families and remember only the bad things. I was blessed for knowing him. God bless you all and I will forever cherish knowing him and his family.

“ I send my deepest condolences to Tron and the family. I fell in love with Tron's dad on the day I met him. There was something about Sterling that was so cool and comforting. He is my one and only Dad crush. The memory of Sterling Fondren now and forever makes me smile. The power of a beautiful spirit.

This is the day you are laid to rest. I can't find the words to say. It was my honor knowing you and caring for you the last 10 years. You changed my life, my mind and my heart. It's a sad day but I know you never wanted me to be sad. So I will look to the hills where my help comes from. I have all the memories so I have to let go and let God do his work. God bless

I miss you so much. I still can't believe you're gone. Thanks for all you did for me and my children. Scolding them when needed and making sure they learned how to do yard work and earn a few bucks 😊 I will never forget you sir. Rest now...Love from the Bynum and Redd Families

Farewell my beautiful friend. The journey we shared has ended but I take comfort in knowing you are not suffering anymore. I will shed tears but remembering your kind heart and love and knowing God has one of his best now I will smile. RIP Sterling Lee Otis C Fondren. Forever in my heart.

Uncle Sterling I have many memories of the times we spent together, but my fondest was when I was around 4 years old and you came to visit us in Chicago on your motorcycle: we were outside and the Four Tops, "Still Waters Run Deep" was playing on the radio. RIP Unc your Y-Vette

*My Forever Friend Sterling,
We never counted the years, but it was 50,
We never had an argument in the 50,
We loved one another for 50, and never talked about the end of 50.
Although you are gone, I will keep your words and memory in my heart because we cherished what we had, it was 50.*
