“ *Today God kept His promise
Just like any other day.
He woke you up this morning
With strength to carry on your way.
Though today seems to be different
Than it was the day before.
You'll fill yourself with memories
That you will cherish forevermore.
May the pain and tears you feel and cry,
Be replaced with sunshine and morning dew.
Sweet memories of how good life has been.
With Family to help you through.
God's timing is not our timing
We may weep throughout the night
But Joy cometh in the morning.
And He already made everything right.
To know and trust in God is the way
To ease the pain and sorrow.
The wisdom A Legacy leaves behind
Live today and Hope for Tomorrow.
RIP-EIY. TOMMIE
